About Opn.

Opn. provides reliable, same or next-day repair and installation services to individuals looking for help with their broken tech devices, cleaning, assembling furniture, mounting TV's and other tasks.

Our Story

Opn. was founded in 2019 as the founder, Dwight Peters saw a lack of representation in a field that went unnoticed to many - tech repair. Over the summer, after his daughter broke his iPhone - he brought it to a local repair kiosk in his nearby mall. It was at that moment that he realized there were no "Black-owned" phone repair shops. At least none that he has ever come across. Living in the greatest city of a country in the midst of a struggle of racial justice, social equity, and "Black Lives Matter" - Dwight wanted to tackle the role of bringing representation to this multi-billion dollar market. He built Opn. to diversify the market, with the goal of building the easiest and most convenient way for people to book appointments to get things done.

What makes Opn. different?

1 Trained Staff

Unlike other platforms, we do not send random third-party “professionals” to you. Our technicians have all been trained in-house, allowing our team to provide a consistent level of service with the Opn. stamp of approval.

2 Same or Next-day Availability

Book online in 55 seconds, scheduling your tech repair or home service need for as early as today or tomorrow!

3 200% Money Back Guarantee!

If you're not happy, we'll come back to make it right!

● Our founder

Dwight Peters is a father, activist and the founder & CEO of Opn. - an online platform for booking tech repair, household services and more. Prior to founding Opn., Dwight was the founder of BackersHub, a marketing platform helping crowdfunding campaign creators reach their targeted audience to increase their funding capabilities. He also founded Slate & Stylus and CrowdCases, each an iPhone & iPad accessories brand selling cases, chargers and other useful equipment for smart devices.
